

BELUCOSE HARRISON.

When Napoleon the little, the nephew of his uncle, as Victor Hugo styled him, saw that dissensions were arising in France which if not quelled would result in his dethronement, he declared war against Prussia to divert attention from him and unite all factions against a foreign foe. The President seems intent on following the example of Louis Napoleon, as far as he has power to do so. He tried to engage the United States in a war with Chili, and failing in that is now directing his attention to Great Britain. He has been for a year or more negotiating a treaty with England to submit all questions in dispute in the Behring Sea controversy to arbitration, but he has manipulated the matter in such a way as to create a war scare, his object being to boom himself for the nomination. Washington correspondents say his course has not favorably impressed the majority of the Republican Senators, who say a war between the United States and Great Britain for a cause so trivial as a year's fishing for seals would be a crime against civilization.

Blaine has washed his hands of the whole affair, and his friends say it has been directed by the President without consulting Blaine, who for nearly two weeks has been too ill to attend to any business. Upon learning what had been done, Blaine's first impulse was to take advantage of his illness, and make it an excuse for tendering his resignation. He was persuaded to change his mind, but it is not certain that he will remain in the Cabinet. He is going South as soon as he can travel and will not return until after the Minneapolis Convention.

The President seems to think that if he can arouse a "war feeling" in the United States against a foreign country, however trivial the provocation, he will make himself popular with the masses and thus insure his re-nomination and re-election. So far his efforts in this direction have been unavailing, and though he is detested by the most prominent Republicans in the Senate and disliked by a large number of Republicans in the West, the party machinery in many of the States is run by his adherents and there is scarcely any doubt of his nomination at Minneapolis.

NEVADA POLITICS.

The politicians of San Francisco are, as usual, taking a great interest in Nevada affairs and wondering what it will do next November. The election of United States Senator in Nevada is an event which excites deep concern in the Bay City. The Post says the wires were laid to send James G. Fair, Jr., to the Senate, and there would be a lively battle for the control of the Legislature if young Fair had not been overtaken by the grim reaper. The provision that a man must have attained the age of 35 years before being eligible to the United States Senate, was overlooked in young Fair's case.

There are, however, the Post says, several people left, who are on the voting register of Nevada, and willing to sit in the Capitol at Washington as a United States Senator from the land of the Digger Indian and his partner, the coyote.

"Among those whose names have been wanted to this city on the political breeze are Francis G. Newlands, Wm. M. Stewart and Thomas Wren, known more familiarly in Nevada as the miners' friend. Mr. Wren served a term in Congress from Nevada and seemed to satisfy his constituents, for he is still popular. The other two gentlemen named are as well known in this community as they are in Nevada."

IMPRISONED FOR DEBT.

They have strange laws in some of the New England States, relics of a by-gone age. Under the operation of one of those laws James Radiker has been imprisoned in the jail at Lewiston, Maine, continuously for nearly four years for a debt of $117 15. This is longer imprisonment than is usually imposed upon persons convicted of felony in that State. It is seldom that a forger is sentenced to more than three or four years imprisonment, yet Radiker, who is guilty of no crime, except that of being unable to pay his debts, is kept in jail year after year. He has one consolation in his confinement, and that is that his creditors, those who prosecute him, have to pay $100 a year to the county for his board. How it is that Radiker can be expected to pay what he owes, if he has no property and is kept in jail continuously, is not plain. A Dickens is needed in Maine to create public sentiment against the barbarous custom as the author of David Copperfield and Little Dorrit did in England, and secure the repeal of the law. It is not adapted to a free country nor the enlightened nineteenth century.

The Grand Jury at Chicago is investigating charges against Alderman and others, who are accused of granting valuable franchises to favored corporations. The jury is not as earnest and determined as that which the Supreme Court of California decided was unlawfully impeached, nevertheless some of the boddlers are said to have left the city. It is said that one of the Aldermen, while under the influence of liquor, made startling revelations.

The Congressional Redistricting bill introduced in the New York Legislature provided for seventeen Democrats, fourteen Republicans and three doubtful districts. In the present House of Representatives New York has twenty-three Democrats and eleven Republicans.

Three hundred Canadians were imported under contract to work for J. E. Henry & Sons at Zealand, Vermont. American workmen ascertained that they came under contract, and the officials sent them back to Canada. They will now return of their own accord and go to work.

Silk Culture Experiments—Thayer vs. Boyd—A Tramp Killed—Where Is Carson's Humane Society?

The Chicago Boddlers.

CHICAGO, March 18.—The Grand Jury investigation into the alleged boddlerism in the City Council is granting valuable franchises began this morning. Alderman Kuuz, who recently talked rather freely when under the influence of liquor, was the only witness examined. It is rumored that the alleged boddlers have friends on the Grand Jury, and color is lent to the rumor by the sudden postponement of the case until to-morrow. It is understood that a special Grand Jury will be called. The discovery is said to have been made by the detectives employed by the investigators that the "combine" met in a room in the rear of the saloon owned by certain Aldermen, for the division of the spoils or planning of other sandbagging schemes. It is also said that disappointed political ambition had much to do with the expose. Two Aldermen, one Republican and one Democrat, were "turned down" by their respective parties at the recent primaries and in revenge are divulging the secrets of the gang. It is said that President Billings of the Gas Trust, promoter of the bacon and "compressed air" scheme, and other corporation officials will be brought before the Grand Jury to-day.

Thayer vs. Boyd.

LINCOLN, Neb., March 18.—Tuesday next ex-Governor Thayer will move in the State Supreme Court for a reopening of the case of Thayer vs. Boyd. This announcement causes much surprise. Thayer was out of town when the Federal Supreme Court mandate was served upon the Judges of the State Court last Tuesday. It says he is impelled to his action by the earnest solicitation of the leading men of the State. His attorneys will base their argument on the theory that the United States Supreme Court decision merely over-ruled the decision of the State Court. Thayer is a man of some prominence in Nebraska, and his case has attracted much public interest.

House Proceedings.

WASHINGTON, March 18.—The House, after routine business proceeded to the consideration of the private calendar.

The Elections Committee to-day decided to seat Noyes, the Republican contestant from New York, and unseat Rockwell, Democrat.

Williams objected to the headlines of Walker's speech, which was not delivered in the House, but printed in the Record. They were not shot for the Megwumpes. Hoar and Williams' report on silver coinage was riddled. Williams claims language ungentlemanly, unparliamentary and offensive.

Walker said the headlines were written by his clerk by mistake and urged that the headlines be taken out. The matter was referred to the Committee on Printing and the House took a recess until evening.

Attempted Suicide—A Tramp Killed.

NAPA, March 18.—John Clynnes, recently an inmate of the Veterans' Home of Yountville, attempted to commit suicide Thursday night. He placed a dynamite cartridge in his mouth and lit the fuse. Half his face was blown off by the explosion, yet he will recover. Family troubles are the cause.

This afternoon a tramp was run over and killed by a freight train at the depot. He attempted to board the train while moving rapidly and fell under the wheels and was horribly mangled. The tramp had burglarized the Depot Saloon and was pursued by the officers, and was attempting to escape. His name is not known.

Great Enthusiasm.

LIBAU, Russia, March 18.—The enthusiasm over the American contributions of provisions received by the steamship Indiana show no signs of abatement. Employees in the arsenal here to-day chartered seven steamers and went out to the steamship Indiana, and greeted the Captain and Sergeant. All sorts of salutes were given and wild yells went up for America and everything American.

More Help For Russia.

PHILADELPHIA, March 18.—The Executive Committee of the Russian Relief Association, at an executive session this afternoon, decided to send another vessel to Russia with a cargo of food. A cablegram was received to-day from Mr. Blankenberg, telling of the intense enthusiasm with which the cargo of the Indiana was received at Libau. The second cargo will be shipped April 18.

Michigan Prohibition Convention.

GRAND RAPIDS, Mich., March 18.—The Michigan State Prohibition Convention completed its organization to-day and selected delegates to the National Convention. The platform, after the usual prohibitory planks, declares the circulating medium of the country may rightly consist of gold, silver and paper of full legal tender, and sufficient in quantity to meet the demands of business. Trusts and like combinations are decried, and the co-operation of Michigan farmers and other classes is invoked to aid in the overthrow of class legislation and the accomplishment of industrial reforms. Telegraph and telephone lines should be in the interest of the people and it says the adjustment of duties on imports should be fixed in business in a like manner by the National Commission of exports and not be made a foot ball of political acrobats.

Silk Culture Experiments.

WASHINGTON, March 18.—Senator George of the Committee on Agriculture to-day reported to the Senate a substitute for Mitchell's bill for the encouragement of silk culture. The substitute provides for the establishment in different parts of the United States of not exceeding five silk experiment stations, to be part of the agriculture experiment stations now established, $5,000 to be appropriated for each station.

McKenna of California, whose nomination as United States Circuit Judge was confirmed by the Senate, will resign his seat in the House, to take effect Monday next.

Where Is Carson's Humane Society?

CARSON, Nev., March 18.—A bull-dog and lynx fight will come off outside the city limits Sunday. The dog was imported from Bathebertown, San Francisco, and his weight is forty-seven pounds. The lynx was caught in the mountains and weighs forty-three pounds. The betting is about even. The sporting fraternity from all over the State have made arrangements to be on the spot. Both brutes will be deprived of food for several days before the fight and a terrible struggle is expected.

Entertainment at the White House.

WASHINGTON, March 18.—The President and Mrs. Harrison entertained a number of guests at dinner this evening, including Senator Allison, Senators Squire, Casey, Warner, White, Perkins and wives, Representatives Grout, Funston, Perkins, Johnson, Starr, General and Mrs. Flagler and Commodore and Mrs. Folger.

Fell Down the Shaft.

VIRGINIA CITY, Nev., March 18.—John S. Clarke, night foreman at the Oest mine in Silver City, fell down the shaft this evening and was instantly killed. No person witnessed the accident, but it is supposed he was struck by a descending cage while stepping from one compartment shaft to the other.

A Short Fight.

SAN FRANCISCO, March 18.—Jim O'Brien knocked out Young Dobbs (colored) in half a round at the Pastime Athletic Club to-night. The men weighed 136 pounds.

Silver Purchases.

WASHINGTON, March 18.—The Treasury Department to-day purchased 457,000 ounces of silver at 0.9015 and .922.

Weather Forecast.

SAN FRANCISCO, March 18.—Forecast for the ensuing twenty-four hours for Nevada, rain, cooler.

The Inventor of Stoves.

While Benjamin Franklin was born in Boston he can be said to belong to Pennsylvania as truly as does William Penn, who was born in England, but came here, as did Franklin, from Boston. And how many people in Philadelphia—or elsewhere in the United States—know that we are indebted largely to Franklin for the stoves which less than a century ago began to replace the fireplaces and more crude arrangements for getting warming our houses? The Franklin stove, which in its days of early development was merely a portable iron fireplace, with open front, in which wood was burned to heat an apartment, was given its name because it was invented by Benjamin Franklin, and was really the connecting link between the rude fireplaces of the last century and the stoves of today.—Philadelphia Press.

Water in the Australian Desert.

When Mr. David Lindsay returned from his expedition across a part of the Australian desert a while ago, he said the whole of that almost waterless country was inhabited by natives who get their water supply by draining the roots of the mallee tree, which yield quantities of pure water. This tree, absorbing moisture from the air, retains it in considerable quantities in its roots and thus makes it possible to live in an arid region, which would otherwise be uninhabitable.—New York Sun.

Electric Lights Help a Gardener.

Soon after the erection of an electric light near the residence of W. W. Rawson, a market gardener in Arlington, Mass., plants on that side of the house became more thrifty than before. He acted upon the hint and now illuminates his lettuce and cucumber beds with electric lights. The result is bigger crops in a shorter time and an increase in his profits of fully 25 per cent.—Yankee Blade.

The Liverpool Elevated Railway will be worked by electricity, using motor cars instead of separate locomotives.

It appears from a letter published in the Gazette from the office of the Dry Goods Reporter in Chicago that the Secretary of every Board of Trade in the Union, except Nevada, has sent illustrations of prominent buildings in his State and town, and portraits of prominent men, and information pertaining to his State and city, to the Reporter for its special edition. Why don't the Secretary send the Reporter a copy of General Downing's birdseye view of Reno?

C. H. Aldrich of Illinois has been appointed Special General by the President to succeed Wm. H. Taft, who has resigned to accept the position of Judge of Circuit Court of Appeals in the Sixth District.

IN THE FIELD.

Russell Alexander Alger, of Michigan, Seeking the Presidential Nomination. Mr. Alger, of Michigan, announces himself to be a candidate for the Presidential nomination. He is a Republican, a Grand Army man, and a millionaire. Lafayette, Ohio, was his birthplace, in the year 1836. He was admitted to the bar in 1859. In 1861 he entered the Union army, beginning an honorable service which terminated in his being a brevet Major General, as Captain of a Michigan cavalry regiment. After the war he became a lumber merchant in Detroit, Michigan. He was elected Governor of that State in 1884, and served in the office two years. In 1890 he was Commander-in-Chief of the Grand Army of the Republic.

H. P. Brown, who has charge of the Nevada Experimental Station, has about an acre of ground planted to several varieties of wheat below town. It is to be grown without irrigation and the difference in the development of each variety will be noted. As the past winter has been a comparatively dry one this will be a good test, and if any of the varieties develop enough to warrant the planting of grain, trusting to the supply of water furnished by nature, it will be a grand thing for the State, and the cause of hundreds of acres being planted to grain in this State within a few years.

Peculiar

Many peculiar points make Hood's Sarsaparilla superior to all other medicines. Peculiar in combination, proportion, and preparation of ingredients, Hood's Sarsaparilla possesses the full curative value of the best known remedies of the vegetable kingdom. Peculiar in its strength and economy—Hood's Sarsaparilla is the only medicine of which can truly be said, "One Hundred Doses of Hood's Sarsaparilla will cure more cases of blood poisoning than any other blood purifier." Peculiar in its medicinal merits, Hood's Sarsaparilla accomplishes cures hitherto unknown, and has won for itself the title of "The greatest blood purifier ever discovered." Peculiar in its "good name" at home—there is now more of Hood's Sarsaparilla sold in Lowell, where it is made, than of all other blood purifiers. Peculiar in its phenomenal record of sales abroad, no other preparation has ever attained such popularity in so short a time, and retained its popularity and confidence among all classes of people so steadfastly. Do not be induced to buy other preparations, but be sure to get the Peculiar Medicine, Hood's Sarsaparilla. Sold by all druggists, $1; six for $5. Prepared only by C. I. A severe storm has been raging for several days from Wyoming to Central Texas. It is estimated that at least 20,000 head of cattle perished between Trinidad, Colorado, and Fort Worth, Texas, and as many more north of Trinidad. The loss of cattle and sheep in Colorado is very great, and thousands perished in New Mexico.

Every report says such an acreage of wheat and barley as is now in the ground has never before been planted in Southern California. Thousands of acres in San Bernardino county that have never produced anything but sagebrush have been planted to barley because of the big market there has been for that grain this season.

The Official Report of Gen. Hurst, Ohio Food Commissioner, shows ROYAL the purest Baking Powder.

Every other Baking Powder tested contained impurities — from 10.18 per cent. to 86.23 per cent. of their entire weight.

FOSTER'S WEATHER FORECASTS

Severe Storms and High Tides Predicted — Mistakes of Scientists.

Copyrighted, 1892, by W. T. Foster.

St. Joseph, Mo., March 18.

My last letter gave forecasts of the storm wave due to cross the continent from the 16th to the 23d and the cool wave from the 19th to the 23d. The next storm wave will be due to reach the Pacific Coast about the 23d, or the western mountains by the close of the 23d, the great central valley from 24th to 26th and the Eastern States 27th or 28th.

THIS STORM WILL BE VERY DANGEROUS. On the coast of the Northeastern States on 27th or 28th and if it should not reach the coast till late on the 28th the highest tides that have been known for years may be expected. The tides will be very high on all our coasts on the 28th, but if this severe storm shall have passed out onto the Atlantic on that day the northwest winds will materially lessen the tides on the coast of Maine and Newfoundland. Keep off the oceans and lakes about that time.

The fishermen about Newfoundland would better take a day or two off about that time and remain away from the waters and along the Bay of Fundy. Preparations should be made for destructive tides and storms on 27th and 28th.

That dangerous storm wave will probably continue on the routes of the passenger steamers between New York and Europe from 28th to April 2d and those who do not desire a rough passage should select some other time.

At the same time, not far from the 28th, a dangerous storm will be developing on the Pacific Slope. The Pacific Coast storms are not usually very severe and this one will not be of such great force as will that on the Atlantic Coast.

There are two other storm waves moving around the earth in these latitudes, one of which will probably be far from the British Isles and the other in Central Asia. Electro-planetary meteorology indicates unusual disturbances all around the earth wherever these four storm waves may be from 27th to 29th.

The last storm wave of March will reach the Pacific Coast about the 28th, cross the western mountains by the close of the 29th, the great central valleys from 30th to April 1, and the Eastern States April 2d or 3d. This storm will be at its greatest force about the 28th, and will decrease in energy as it moves eastward.

COOL WAVES WILL CROSS THE WESTERN MOUNTAINS.

About the 28th and 31st, the great central valleys about 27th and April 2d and the Eastern States about 29th and April 4th. A blizzard is expected on the northern lakes 27th or 28th. This storm will also affect the weather of the Southern States with a probability of tornadoes.

The disturbance influences have been so great this year that the storms from the tropics have moved up onto the continent, and as I am not yet able to calculate these tropical storms, they have, in two or three cases, knocked my forecasts out. I hope my readers will be charitable, however, for I am determined to conquer these tropical storms, or their records, so as to be able to forecast them also.

MISTAKES OF ORTHODOX SCIENTISTS.

Among recent astronomers Prof. R. A. Proctor was, in the United States, the most widely known critic. He spent his life in discussing and criticizing the theories and discoveries of others and in advancing his own peculiar theories. He was a forcible writer, and most of his work has been well received while a part of it has been severely criticized. One of his hobbies was that the heat and light of the sun is kept up by meteors falling into it, but this has generally been discredited. It would have no foundation left if the electric theory should be accepted, and therefore his friends are doing all they can to check the growing belief that electricity is the cause of heat and motion.

In his discussion of other worlds than ours Prof. Proctor dwells long on the inhabitants of Mercury, basing his arguments on the supposition that Mercury revolved on its axis in about twenty-four hours, making the days and nights of that orb about equal to those of the earth. But recently it has been discovered that Mercury revolves only once in about eighty-eight of our days. Therefore its days of sunshine would equal about forty-four of ours and its nights would be of equal length. This would cause heat sufficient to boil water, and would so change the conditions of the weather on Mercury as to make it impossible for animal life to exist. Therefore Prof. Proctor's long argument on that subject is left without a foundation and this failure suggests that he may have been mistaken also in his opposition to electro-planetary meteorology.

When Prof. Proctor criticized the theory that the planets influence our weather he did so without any knowledge of what the theory is. He appeared to entertain the common English idea that no valuable scientific discovery could be made by the western people who inhabit the Mississippi Valley, and therefore he never informed himself on this subject. But he made a mistake, either in opposing the theory or in admitting its basic principles and it is I propose to prove by quotations from his writing.

Electro-planetary meteorologists hold that electricity and magnetism are the same, but under different conditions; that these elements affect the earth, its atmosphere and its weather through one process while gravity affects them through another and that gravity is an effect of electricity and magnetism. In effect Prof. Proctor has admitted these facts which I will proceed to prove.

BAKING POWDER

In the New York Legislature.

The following, taken from "The Oil, Paint and Drug Reporter," refers to a new bill just introduced in the Legislature of New York State:

"The latest development in the baking powder war, is the introduction of a bill in the Legislature of this State, requiring all packages of baking powder which contain ammonia, to be branded with a statement of that fact in large type on the label."

"Now while the ammonia contentions are on, why cannot the law give the public the benefit of the doubt? Wholly unprejudiced people are certainly not willing to be dosed with the substance acknowledged as a poison, simply because scientists, some of whom are not even physiologists, disagree as to its potency."

A similar bill was introduced last April but it is shrewdly surmised that the influence of interested parties prevented its passage. The provisions of the present bill are so just that it will probably soon become a law.

This will be welcome news to the manufacturers of pure Cream of Tartar baking powders, the most prominent of whom is the Price Baking Powder Company of Chicago and St. Louis, makers of Dr. Price's Cream Baking Powder, who have always made a strictly pure cream of tartar powder, notwithstanding the temptations of adulteration suggested by the enormous profits realized by a large New York concern which uses ammonia, and advertises its powder as strictly pure, by means of garbled official reports and certificates signed by its own employes, dubbed professor, doctor or Government chemist, as fancy may dictate.

A bill compelling alum powders to be conspicuously labeled as such, already exists in Minnesota, and it is to be hoped, in the interest of the consumer, that similar laws will soon be enacted in other States, for ammonia as well as alum.

The following powders, known to contain either ammonia or alum or both will be affected by the proposed legislation:

Royal, Pearl, Calumet, Chicago Yeast, Forest City, One Spoon (Taylor's), Bon Bon, Kenton, Echo, Snow Puff, Univalved, Yarnall's One Spoon, Shephard's Economical, Crown, Cynamex, Hercules, Monarch, New Era, Snow Ball.

NEVADA'S WEALTH.

It Saved the Nation in Time of Need.

The discussion of the silver question in Congress has caused San Francisco mining men to discuss the State of Nevada and its mineral resources. Colonel Grandmeyer, an old resident of Nevada, is indignant at the way the Sagebrush State has been handled in Congress. In conversation with a Post reporter he said:

"They can talk about the State of Nevada being played out, but let me tell you that Nevada is one of the first States in the Union."

"Its wealth is yet untold, and what it has in sight will probably never be appreciated until the nation again needs silver and has to send to the West to get it. It seems that there is no brain comprehensive enough to grasp the situation of Nevada, as it is surrounded by a mountainous region of untold wealth. The State saved the reputation of the nation when money was needed, and if silver was good enough for the people then, it certainly ought to be now."

In Life Worth Living

Depends on the liver. If suffering with indigestion, or troubled with malaria, that tired, worn-out feeling, you will consider life worth very little. But when relieved of these by taking Simmons' Liver Regulator you will count life a blessing and keep the Regulator on hand for any sudden attack of Bilelessness and Sick Headache. An active liver makes life a delight. Don't forget the Regulator with the red Z.

Room to Reopen.

Miss Robinson's room in the public school, which was closed the past week on account of her brother's sickness, will reopen next Monday. Her brother is convalescing, and she is going to leave home and thoroughly disinfect her clothing, remaining away until there is no danger on account of scarlet fever germs. The doctors say she will be entirely safe in reopening school under these conditions, and no parent need hesitate to send her children to school. So all be on hand Monday morning.

"German Syrup"

The majority of well-read physicians now believe that Consumption is a germ disease. In other words, instead of being in the constitution itself it is caused by innumerable small creatures living in the lungs having no business there and eating them away as caterpillars do the leaves of trees.

A Germ Disease. The phlegm that is coughed up is those parts of the lungs which have been gnawed off and destroyed. These little bacilli, as the germs are called, are too small to be seen with the naked eye, but they are very much alive just the same, and enter the body in our food, in the air we breathe, and through the pores of the skin. Thence they get into the blood and finally arrive at the lungs where they fasten and increase with frightful rapidity. Then German Syrup comes in, loosens them, kills them, expels them, heals the places they leave, and so nourish and soothe that, in a short time consumption becomes germ-proof and well.

A Clever Collar. T. Sidney Cooper, the English animal painter, says that he has made valuable studies in Scotland at places where Scotch drovers, with their cattle for the night, on such occasions he often had a chance to see illustrations of an animal's intelligence as well as of its physical perfection.

One day when there was a pouring rain a man consented to sit for me at the inn where I was staying. He brought his collar with him and both of them were dripping wet, so he put off his plaid and laid it on the floor by the dog. I made a very successful sketch of the man, but before I had finished it the dog grew fidgety with the wet plaid, and his master said, "Tak' it awa' mon; tak' it awa'!"

The dog took the end of it between his teeth and dragged it out of the room. After I had finished the drover's portrait I asked him if he thought his dog would be quiet for a time, as I wished to sketch him.

"Oh, yes, mon," he answered, "he'll do anything I say to him. Watch! Watch!" he called, and then "whistled" for him, as the Scotch say.

As the dog did not appear we went together to look for him, and found him sitting before the kitchen fire with the end of the plaid in his mouth, holding it up to dry. I expressed my admiration of his intelligence, and the master replied:

"Ah, he's a canny creature, sir! He knows a many things, does that dog, sir. But come awa', mon; the gentleman wants to mak' your picture."

We returned to my room, and the handsome collie sat for his portrait. —Chicago News.

Mrs. Astor's Lingerie.

The cedar chests in the Astor mansion which contain the superb undergarments of the queenly Mrs. Astor are perfect household ornaments in themselves, with deep engraved gold lockers with the initial "A" wrought in finest carving upon its surface. Inside the chest, neatly folded in webs of choicest linen, are the dainty garments of society's queen. Each week, as they leave the ironing sheet, they are laid within the chests to await the bidding of the owner. Every article of this superb wardrobe is stitched by hand, and no materials but the purest and finest of linens and cambrics are used. They are all elaborately trimmed with lovely point and duchesse laces, and the initial "A" is daintily embroidered on every article.

In the same orderly manner Mrs. Astor arranges her footwear, which is equally as exquisite; only the cedar chests have apartments molded in which each slipper and boot fits perfectly and keeps its shape.

By the way, Mrs. Astor has a very pretty foot for an old lady. Her ankles are small and shapely and her toes are extremely narrow. Her daughters, Mrs. Coleman Drayton and Mrs. Orme Wilson, have neither of them such pretty feet, and they are eternally envying their mother her beautiful feet and adornments. —New York Cor. Pittsburg Dispatch.

Charles Dickens and the Dog.

"Every one remembers Dan Drowsnab, the old sexton of St. Patrick's," said Mr. H. A. Preston. "Dan had a little dog, a homely cur, with the most plebeian blood in his veins, but a remarkably clever animal. He would follow the sexton everywhere, and the only way to restrain him was behind closed doors. One night about twenty-three years ago Charles Dickens gave a reading in Carroll hall. Dan was on hand to look after the hall, rigged in a dress coat out of deference to the great occasion. He had forgotten the dog, but the dog was on hand.

"In one of his readings the great novelist came to this passage, 'Bow-wow-wow,' barked the little dog. He gave it a realistic rendering, and almost with his words came a responsive and lifelike echo, 'Bow-wow-wow.' There stood Dan's little yellow cur, directly in front of Chief Justice Chase, and before the great men of the nation, mocking their guest. Dan dragged the dog out, terribly mortified, but Dickens said it was one of the finest compliments he ever received." —Washington Post.

No Excuse for Late Hours.

There would seem to be no excuse for the late hours which society prescribes for its ceremonies. Late evening parties for children are admitted to be injurious. But we are all children or ought to be, so far as the laws of health are concerned. We do not, as many think, by age earn a right to violate the laws of health. Nature takes pay for it in one way or another.

One difficulty at the foundation of our social life is that we do not admit amusements as necessary to our lives. We do not stop apart time for them, but insist, if forced into them by fashion, upon taking them out of time that ought to be given to rest of mind and body. The day must all be given to business, up to its latest available hour, and then we take from hours that should be given to sleep time for social duties. —New York Ledger.

Glacier Ice.

Glacier ice is not like the solid blue ice on the surface of the water, but consists of granules joined together by an intricate network of capillary water filled fissures. In exposed sections and upon the surface of the ice can be observed "veined" or "banded" structure, veins of a denser blue color alternating with those of a lighter shade containing air bubbles. The cause of this peculiar structure has been the subject of much theorizing among investigators, but hitherto the greatest authorities consider that the explanation of the phenomenon is yet wanting. —Goldthwaite's Geographical Magazine.

RED BLUFF, Sept. 25, 1891.

METROPOLITAN Dispensary—Gentlemen: Six weeks ago, when I first wrote you, I did not think it possible that such a wonderful change could be wrought in such a case as mine. I was victim of nervous prostration and insomnia, caused by my own indigestion. I was unable to sleep sometimes for three or four days on stretch, and then only for an hour or so. I had been doctoring for months, and the best physicians on the coast pronounced my case hopeless. I was dying, dying slowly but surely, yet able to keep up and around. Your first treatment was a revelation to me, and in a short time was just asleep, and after 24 hours I felt certain that you would cure me. I have gained more than 20 lbs. in six weeks. I can only say "God bless you."

W. W. WILSON

Miss Nellie Wilson of Watsonville, Cal. wrote us as follows:

DEAR SIR:—Enclosed please find P. O. order for the money due you. It is impossible for me to send another treatment, as I am entirely cured.

MISS NELLIE WILSON.

Mother says that I'm well, and I quite agree with her. My hearing is completely restored, the roaring noises in my right ear are also gone. I have gained 15 pounds of weight in two months of your treatment. My sense of smell has also returned, although it was about gone, as you will remember.

MISS NELLIE WILSON.

Such evidence as this, coming from responsible parties, cannot be ignored by the afflicted. You would be glad to have you write to these parties and see for yourselves. We have thousands of other testimonials on file in our office.

A Bride and a Widow in One Day.

Pretty seventeen-year-old Conception Sylva, a Portuguese maiden of Contra Costa county, was a bride at 4 o'clock yesterday afternoon in West Berkeley, and three hours later she was a widow. She was married to Frank Bispo, a young Portuguese dairyman, and after the ceremony and reception the wedding guests repaired to the station, where the young couple were to take the train for San Francisco.

While waiting for the train Bispo took a little nephew in his arms and trotted up the track, while several others walked along the railroad. Suddenly the shriek of the overland fier was heard, and a moment after it swept around a curve. It disappeared in an instant. On one side of the track was Bispo, dead, but badly wounded. On the other side of the track lay the body of Mrs. Sylva. All three had been struck by the train. The four bodies of the bride and bridegroom, and the mourning party went to the house where the wedding supper was cold on the table. —San Francisco Cor. Chicago Herald.

An Epidemic of Hiccoughs.

What is called an epidemic of hiccoughs is reported as prevailing on the Maryland and Delaware peninsula, and in some cases it has proved fatal. The case of Richard Cole, colored, who resided near Middletown, Del., baffled the physicians, as have others, and he fell a victim after coughing violently for four weeks. His death has attracted much attention from physicians. Edward Pardee, a farmer residing in Jones Neck was stricken sixteen weeks ago with the disease and has hiccoughed incessantly since. At times his life is despaired of but the attacks become less violent and he rallies. He is now slowly improving. Every mail has brought letters to the family of the sufferer for many weeks the writers advising the use of different remedies, all of which have been tried to no avail. —Cor. Baltimore Sun.

A Man Cremated Alive in a Furnace.

A frightful accident occurred at the North Longside Iron company's works at Ulverston. A man named John McAlister was working on the top of one of the blast furnaces, and when tipping in a barrow of limestone he stumbled and fell headlong into the burning furnace. The furnace was immediately damped down, but nothing more was seen of him. The burial service held on the top of the furnace was read by the Rev. Father Allan. It will be remembered that a similar fatality occurred recently in the neighborhood of Carnforth, and that there the burial service was also read by a clergyman on the top of the furnace. —London Tit-Bits.

A Dollar for a Kiss.

In Geneva county recently a jury by its verdict settled the value of kisses in this State. A young fellow named William Horton was indicted for assault and battery on Miss Sallie Jones. The testimony of the young woman was that Horton had laid violent hands on her and kissed her against her will. Horton testified that the kiss was with Miss Sallie's free will and consent, and that he had kissed her 150 times before. The jury rendered a verdict of guilty and assessed a fine of $150, stating that kisses in Geneva were worth one dollar each. —Birmingham Age-Herald.
